What are the criteria for selecting projects?

The members of Giving Women individually support projects that:

- are clearly defined and presented by organizations.
- are for women and/or founded by women;
- have clearly defined and assessable objectives;
- are in the area of poverty alleviation, health, sanitation and livelihood enhancement, vocational training for marginalised people and education, etc;
- are efficient and effective, sustainable and replicable;

Projects follow a defined process: selection, proposal, evaluation, project presentation to our members, and coordination by a project circle.

Making a project proposal

1. Projects can be submitted from all over the world by email (contactinfo@givingwomen.ch) by their founders, project directors and/or Giving Women members;
2. To submit a project, membership is not required;
3. All projects that meet our initial criteria will be invited to complete a questionnaire and submit a dossier containing relevant information highlighting the objectives, financial status, leadership, governance, sustainability and impact of the project.
4. Based on the successful analysis of the dossier, the project will proceed to the next stage of the selection and be evaluated by an expert.
5. A positive evaluation will allow the project to be presented to our members and posted on our website (members' zone).
6. Thereafter a "project advocate" will coordinate the support offered to the project by a "project circle" formed by interested members of GW;
